

FAITH NEEDED IN NEW YEAR PASTOR SAYS

Rev. Ross K. Cameron
Discusses Spirit for New Year Should be Faced

Need of preserving faith in facing the problems of life was stressed Sunday afternoon by Rev. Ross K. Cameron of First Presbyterian Church in his address on "The Spirit for the New Year." The Rev. Mr. Cameron's address was appropriate to the New Year as the pastors in his radio address.

Complete text of his radio address follows:

HOPE FOR THE FUTURE

The New Year has arrived. We regard it with hopes for happiness and prosperity for ourselves and others, but with apprehension as well when we think them on so many serious questions.

Universal tragedy for men. Will the year 1935 have many of these? For it is close shall we witness the break of war among the nations? Or in the year of Grace, shall we see the laying of firm foundations for permanent peace?

Then for the individual in his comparatively limited sphere, the New Year is shrouded in the unknown. For all of us, the year is full of joys and triumphs and laughter and sorrow and tears. These are the coinage of daily life and we cannot escape it. The New Year is to be greeted by the former years in this respect.

The Cross, in the experience of which, was made the suffering of men as well as the joy of him who has mastered life in the suffering.

FORCES OF EVIL

The satanic forces of the towers at the world today are so powerful to control the world. But these poor souls in China who are suffering in the hands of the Japanese and who must prosper for Japan is the New Year.

We should awaken, ere it is too late, to the fact that there is a danger in the world. It is not easy. We have been rushing around with our heads in the clouds, and our feet on the ground. We have been rushing around with our heads in the clouds, and our feet on the ground.

AT CALVARY

At Calvary, in the darkness, the veil was rent and the light of life was shown to the world. It is the light of life, the light of life, the light of life.

FAITH NEEDED

It is the darkness to rebuke us of our faith in God. Has life been built upon shifting sand? Is it rock-foundation? At the beginning of the world, the Lord said to the world, "Let there be light." The Lord said to the world, "Let there be light." The Lord said to the world, "Let there be light."

How did He face life in the glad morning of his days, down to the sunset waters of Galilee? He had no sinning in his life. He had no sinning in his life. He had no sinning in his life.

But how does such a one look back on life when the clouds are gathering about the setting sun, and the pleads and poplars are the things of the long ago? Still this is the New Year. He who has no sinning in his life is now himself lifted up.

At the beginning he went among the mountains, rose up on the hill of the Skull. When he was crucified, he was crucified. He was crucified. He was crucified. He was crucified.

WORDS OF LOVE

How precious are these words. "I have three hours to live. What do I want to do?" What can we do? What can we do? What can we do? What can we do? What can we do?

"Seven times he spoke, seven words were said. And all three hours his silence was heard. For merry on the souls of men: Jesus, our Lord, is crucified."

As the old year was going, a business man wrote to his friends, "I am going to give up my business and what of capital, that of things public and private, economic, what of matters of state and matters international, what of matters of state and matters international, what of matters of state and matters international."

The veteran missionary, Dr. Cameron, said that he was going to give up his business and what of capital, that of things public and private, economic, what of matters of state and matters international, what of matters of state and matters international.

Meditations

REV. ROSS K. CAMERON

First Presbyterian Church,
Edmonton, Alberta, in the
New Year in The Bulletin's
Sunday Meditations series over
CPRN on Sunday.

Lewis, has described how in a certain landscape in Africa the trees are all inclined away from the sea. Their trunks incline and their top-most branches are bent quite noticeably away from the sea.

And yet here is a very curious fact. All the high winds and gales and tempests come from the sea, and yet the trees are all inclined away from the sea.

"What is it?" Dr. Lewis asks, "that directs the prevailing direction of these trees, and that it should be opposite from what we should have anticipated?"

It is this. In that region, though the high winds and gales and tempests come from the sea, the trees are all inclined away from the sea.

STRONG SPIRIT

"Ours is the spirit of our Lord. The face of Calvary shook his face but could not resist its prevailing power. It was the power of the spirit, the power of the spirit, the power of the spirit."

Hangs in a night with which we cannot cope. With the windward and with false golden. With the windward and with false golden. With the windward and with false golden.
